

We have reached the penultimate week of term! We cannot begin to thank our children, parents, carers, and members of staff for your ongoing support over the last few months! We've all had to learn how to adapt, make changes to our lives and get used to the new 'norm'. We are incredibly proud of our children for their endless dedication, ambition and attitude towards learning. We have had another exciting week both in school and at home. This edition celebrates home learning, LMM, art, phenomenal writing and much more. Have a great weekend everyone...until next week!

Farewell Year 6

Dolphins

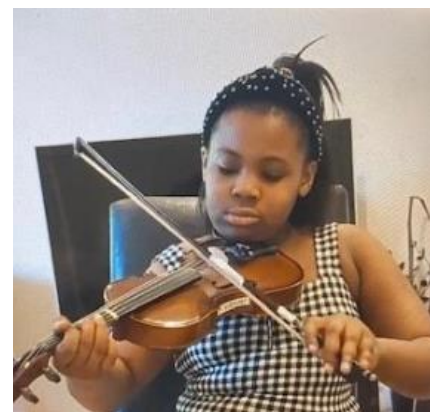

Blue Whales

It's been a tough year for all of us but to see our Year 6 children miss out on their long awaited events and end of primary school celebrations, is truly heartbreaking. Many events had to be cancelled including, residential trip to Sayers Croft, end of year production, graduation, LMM exams, class photos, last class parties, local trips, disco and endless fun on nerve wrecking rides at Chessington! Despite this, you have proven to be true Jessop pupils by sending in outstanding Home Learning end products and you have returned to school as true role models. We know that you will continue to succeed in all your future endeavours and will continue to make us proud wherever you go! The corridors will not be the same without you. You have been a very unique group of pupils and we are extremely sad to see you go. We wish you all the best for Year 7 and the future. We will miss you Year 6!

LMM – The Big Friday Live!

The BIG Friday Live took place on Friday 3rd July! It was to celebrate the end of the term and all the achievements of the LMM students! What an incredible performance with over 245 students and 41 speakers. Our children proved that with the right attitude you can play an instrument anywhere including your bedroom, garden or even your kitchen. We are extremely proud of our children and cannot thank LMM enough for their hard work and commitment. It's an absolute honour to be part of the LMM community!

Art Hub Celebrations

Last week, we looked at Pointillism and the dotting technique. We focused on Seurat and Aboriginal paintings. Georges Seurat created a whole new painting technique. He used the science of optics, and realised that if tiny dots of pure colour were painted close together, then the human eye would blend the dots to make a solid colour. Seurat believed that a painter could use colour to create harmony in art like a musician uses melody and notes to create harmony. Thank you for all the wonderful pieces of work!

Year 3 Film Club

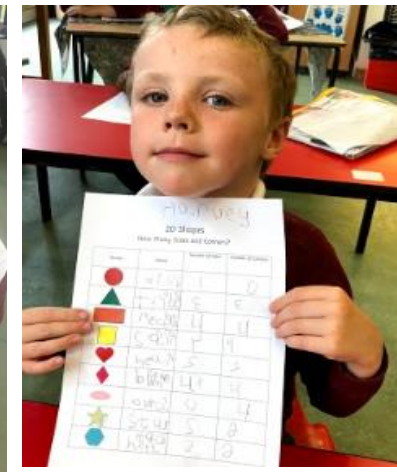

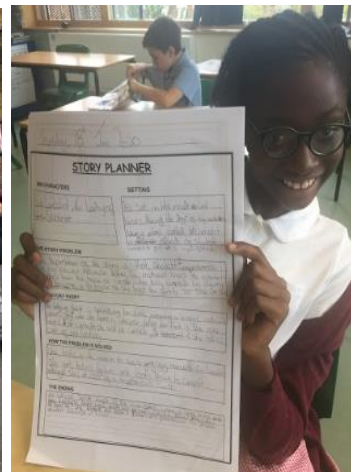

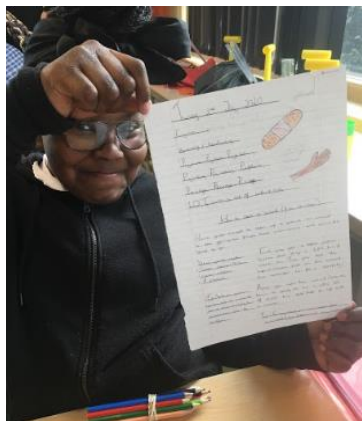

On Friday 3rd July, Jessop launched a virtual film club in Year 3. This week we reviewed and discussed the Japanese animation film 'Howl's Moving Castle.' Our resident film critics generated lots of ideas and came up with insightful questions and comments about the film!

Bubble Life

Another week filled with fun! This week, we welcomed back another 16 children. We had a total of 127 children across the 9 bubbles. Apart from Maths, English and Phonics, children enjoyed other areas of the curriculum including dance, PE, art, baking, Spanish and Science. We cannot wait to see more children next week!

Supporting our local community

Our Better Start Area Team in the children's centre have been busy throughout the lockdown period delivering food parcels and more, to families with young children living within our local community. To date over 1,500 food parcels have been delivered to the door steps of those in need, as well as early years activity packs, story books, sanitary products, baby food, healthy eating recipe books and seedlings so families can try to grow their own vegetables.

Nothing will stop Coach Tariq and the team at Inspirational Youth from delivering the Peaceful Warrior group to our Year 6 children who are transitioning to secondary school this year! This term, Thursdays at 4pm, the children are ready online to greet Coach Tariq and go through a series of exercises to stretch and strengthen their minds and bodies. Inspirational Youth works in partnership with The Aeon Project to empower young people to achieve changes in their attitude and mindset which will increase their employability skills and aspirations for education and life. Their main goals are to improve the attitude to learning, confidence, self-esteem and a greater understanding of discipline and respect meaning a more productive and successful school environment. Participants will benefit from a range of outcomes, principally greater engagement, an improved ability to manage feelings and an understanding of a Growth Mindset. They aim for these lessons to be carried over into life outside of school and to be implemented into everyday situations. We would like to thank Inspirational Youth and especially Coach Tariq and Coach Louise for their resilience and hard work! We really do appreciate it and look forward to a continued relationship next academic year.

Black Lives Matter

I personally think what happened to George Floyd was tragic that he didn't commit a crime and it was wrong how they treated him. He didn't resist arrest but was still brutally murdered by the police and this has happened before and it can't be ignored much longer. I think that people should treat their self how they would want to be treated and it should not have taken lives for people to see what was happening in front of them. Jannez.

Year 6

The town was very busy, however the island outside the castle there were beautiful flowers and in the castle, there was the Lady of Shalott. Not many people see her ways her hand or seen her stand. Only the people who wake up in the morning to cut the wheat her too sing.

One day, the Lady of Shalott heard a whisper say a curse is on her if she doesn't leave. She looks outside the market and still sees people in the market.

Sometimes people to the come to the castle on the island, but no one could stay with her due to the fact of everyone being unloyal. Then there was a funeral.

Camping with Bea

The last holiday that I went to was camping with 1 of my best friends Bea. It was a long journey but we got there in the end. When we had pitched our tent we went to Waitrose in the village to get some food. It turned out that there had been a recent fire in a pub, it was all blocked off. When we got home it was time to go on a canoe on a river. Even though it was a bit frustrating it still was still fun. It began to get dark so we made our jacket potatoes on the campfire, whilst we were waiting it was really cold so we got our p-j's on, I was wearing a rainbow unicorn wanzi that Bea got me for my birthday. As soon as we got out, our potatoes were ready and they were very delicious. In the morning we went to the cafe nearby - i was still in my wanzi- we had an amazing smoothie with an english breakfast. Sadly we had to pick up and go home. I really enjoyed this holiday.
